

GROW THE MIDDLE CLASS— HELP US STOP WAGE THEFT

Wage theft is a crime that costs California working families and taxpayers billions of dollars every year. By not complying with basic payroll and reporting requirements, employers who operate in the underground economy steal billions of dollars in wages earned by their workers, cheat California taxpayers out of hundreds of millions of dollars, and put law abiding businesses out of business.

Construction wage theft comes in many forms—including failure to pay workers proper wages and overtime, neglecting to provide appropriate rest periods and breaks, and avoidance of legally required payroll tax, workers' compensation and unemployment insurance contributions.

As a government official, I pledge to initiate or support actions that implement California's labor, payroll and tax laws in my community and to hold employers who violate these laws accountable.
